

Dustin L. Pendell
Professor
Department of Agricultural Economics
Kansas State University

Biography

Dustin L. Pendell joined the Department of Agricultural Economics at Kansas State University in August 2015. His broad research interests include livestock and animal health issues that span from the producer through the meat supply chain to the final consumer. Dustin's interdisciplinary research has been funded by federal agencies and commodity organizations and appears in various academic and outreach publications.

Prior to joining Kansas State University, Dustin was on faculty at Colorado State University where he conducted research on various livestock issues and taught courses in farm management, agricultural marketing and production economics at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. He holds a B.S. in Agribusiness from Illinois State University, a M.S. in Agribusiness Economics from Southern Illinois University – Carbondale and a Ph.D. in Agricultural Economics from Kansas State University.

Dustin and his wife, Kim, live in St. George, Kansas with their two boys, Dreyton and Jaxon. Dustin is originally from Colchester, Illinois and grew up on a small cow-calf operation.

Contact Information

Dustin L. Pendell
220 Waters Hall
Manhattan, KS 66506
Office: 785-532-3525
Fax: 785-532-6925
Email: dpendell@ksu.edu