Schedule

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 2021

7:45-8:15 a.m. — Registration and Continental Breakfast

8:15 a.m. — Welcome and Announcements

8:20-9:35 a.m. — Tax Legislation, Policy and Implications for Clients: What Now? (McEowen) [75 minutes tax update CPE]

This session will examine income tax, estate and gift tax, capital gain, basis proposed legislation that has been proposed in 2021. The potential for dramatic change in tax policy creates many issues for tax practitioners and their clients. What are the most important areas that impact tax planning for clients? What is the impact on capital gains tax rates? Is Social Security planning affected? How should clients be advised? What tax planning techniques should be taken to minimize the impact of higher effective tax rates. This session will be comprehensive in nature and provide the clearest roadmap possible at the time for a path forward for clients.

9:35-10:35 a.m. — Legislative Update: Survey of Current and Proposed State Laws Affecting Agriculture and Rural America (Jarecki and Weichman) [60 minutes tax update CPE]

This session will discuss a legislative update in the State of Nebraska specific to agriculture along with proposed legislation in the State of Nebraska that may impact agriculture. This session will also include a review of specific federal legislation and its potential impact on agricultural operations.

10:35-10:45 a.m. — Break

10:45-Noon — Farm Succession and Continuity Planning (Waters) [75 minutes tax law CPE]

This segment will explore the challenges of transitioning an agricultural business across multi-generations. Unpredictability in commodity prices, land values, and tax consequences can make an already daunting task even more difficult. We will explore case studies, together with tools techniques used to address these challenges, while pursuing the ultimate goal of continuing a family's farming legacy.

Noon-1:00 p.m. — Lunch and Presentation: Creating and Maintaining a Vibrant Rural Practice (Bailey) [no CPE credit]

Building a rural practice engages more than your local clientele. Join a conversation in creating a map to bring discipline and growth to your practice. Think about the value you bring to your community, influence to your profession, and the legacy you imprint in the rural landscape. Leave with tools to elevate your profile and be energized about serving those who need your expertise.

1:00-1:50 p.m. — Special Use Valuation: Key Concepts (McEowen) [50 minutes tax law CPE]

With the possibility of a decrease in the federal estate and gift tax exemption equivalent of the unified credit, the federal estate tax becomes an issue for a higher percentage of farming and ranching operations. This session outlines the key issues for estate planners doing pre-planning for the possibility of an election in a decedent's estate and issues that can arise post-death.

1:50-2:00 p.m. — Break

2:00-3:40 p.m. — The Ag Entrepreneur's Toolkit: Navigating Common Business and Tax Issues Associated with LLCs (Morse and Venteicher) [100 minutes tax law CPE]

The business and tax law features of LLCs present significant opportunities and challenges for operators in the ag sector and those who advise them. This program identifies common areas of concern and provides practical considerations for successful use of the LLC in ag business contexts.

3:40 p.m. — Adjourn

Program Learning Objectives

Learning Objectives for the program:

This program will provide an overview of tax law provisions relating to a variety of issues that arise in Farm and Ranch Tax, Estate, and Business Planning. The program assumes attendees will have an intermediate level of expertise in the area and are generally familiar with the areas of tax law addressed by the various topical areas listed in the program.

Attendees who complete the program will be updated as to current issues in this tax practice area. They will also work through application examples in the noted subjects areas covered by the various presenters.

At three points during each hour of presentation attendees will be asked to answer questions about the presentation to confirm 1) their attendance and 2) their understanding of the material as it is presented live online.

Content, Prerequisites, Expected Participant Knowledge Level, Registration and Refund/Complaint Information

This program is an overview and update on the noted areas of tax law and practice. As noted, the program is intended for participants who have an intermediate level of knowledge in the Taxes Subject Area. Beginners may find exposure to the changes that are discussed helpful in assessing whether to engage more senior practitioners to help them with a client who may have Act-related issues. There are no specific prerequisites required to attend.

No advance preparation is required though program participants may want to review the topic areas and bring questions they would like addressed during the program.

The program will be delivered online via the Zoom platform. Specific instructions and a link to access the online program will be provided several days prior to the program to individuals who register and pay the fee. Instructions will also include information about how to access program materials.

Washburn Law is an NASBA CPE provider. The program will qualify in the taxes area for the minutes noted next to each presentation.

Instructions about how to register for this program are found at <https://washburnlaw.edu/farmandranchtaxaugust> (i.e., this event homepage). Individuals who are interested in this program should register through the event homepage to see any program-related updates. Information about the program refund policy and complaint resolution steps are also included on the event homepage. You may also contact the administrative staff person for this program, Donna Vilander, at (785) 670-1105.

NASBA Registration

Washburn Law is registering with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors. State boards of accountancy have final authority on the acceptance of individual courses for CPE credit. Complaints regarding registered sponsors may be submitted to the National Registry of CPE Sponsors through its web site: www.nasbaregistry.org.
